DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Sunil Chaudhary
Director

Schooling is, without doubt the foundation upon which the life of an individual is built. In today's fast-paced competitive world, the importance of schooling can in no way be undetermined as the fundamental and basic value system that develops during schooling of an individual and remains for a life time and thus school as a social institution, must cater to this need of society to make it more value based with strong values and ethics. Apart from these value systems which get inculcated in a student's life, there is another dimension of schooling which is equally pertinent when it comes to children's education i.e. learning. Learning and value systems mould the final character of our children. At JSWWS we focus on quality education, experimental learning and not cramming which is need of the hour. So that students could apply the Knowledge in their daily life. We help children to develop the four pillars of learning, which are knowledge, Skills, Disposition and Ethics. A child's character cannot be developed without the amalgamation of these four pillars. Our school also focus on 4 'S' to make the child

- (i) sincere
- (ii) skilled
- (iii) smart
- (iv) scholastic
